Inspire Shares personal stories from fellow ministry leaders about how God has worked in their lives

A few years ago I visited the Grand Canyon. While I enjoyed the view, a cloud billowed into the canyon and filled it with ribbons of mist. The buzzing of conversations and the scuffling of footsteps stopped as thunder rolled through the canyon like a low growl. "The heavens declare the glory of God," Psalm 19:1 says, and even though I didn't hear an audible voice that day, God's majesty spoke clearly.

That day offered just a glimpse of God's beauty and how much He deserves our praise. I wanted nothing but to worship Him. Maybe you've felt this way before___while looking at a field of grass rippling in the breeze or waves bombarding a craggy cove or the colors of the sky changing into fluorescent hues at sunset.

Standing quietly outside, looking at creation, I marveled that the same God who made everything I saw was also present with me___a cosmic, awe-inspiring, awesome God. He is eternal.

Equip Offers perspective and context to the lesson's Bible passage

God is eternal. He has always been and will always be. His creation of and interaction with humans can be found in the first book of the Bible, Genesis, which sets up the backdrop for the rest of The Big God Story. Genesis explains our need for the Redeemer, Jesus Christ, who will one day defeat Satan and redeem us back to Himself.

The first chapter of Genesis gives an account of creation from the beginning of the universe to the creation of man in God's image. It refers to God as Elohim, the infinitely powerful One who created the universe and our earth out of nothing. Chapter 2 focuses more on the creation of man and woman and speaks of God as *Yahweh Elohim*___"I Am who I Am," who formed Adam from the dust, like a potter forms a pot from clay, and breathed into his nostrils, giving him life.

Genesis 3 describes the fall of mankind and gives us a picture of God as a pursuer. At the outset of sin, God began to draw Adam and Eve___and subsequently fallen humanity___back to Himself. When Adam and Eve hid from Him, God looked for them. He also protected them by making clothes for them.

In the Genesis account we see the relationship God desires to have with us___one in which we're in perfect harmony with the eternal One.

Support Provides reflection and assessment through encouragement, prayer, and time in God's Word

As you prepare for this lesson, spend time reading the Scripture passage on your own, and ask the Holy Spirit to transform you with the same words you'll be bringing to the children. Let what you share be infused with the passion and conviction that comes from the overflow of your own life.

Pray the Holy Spirit powerfully impacts your time with the kids, bringing them into closer relationship with Him. Pray that your kids and parents will be transformed by their encounter with God, that they will know Him better, and that they will respond to Him with faith and obedience. If possible, find a time to pray with the parents for their role as spiritual leaders.

Ask God to use His story to reveal His great love for all of you and His desire to be in perfect relationship with you.

Children develop relationships with their leaders and one another through simple activities and conversation starters.

God created the world and everything in it. He is eternal, which means that He's always existed and always will exist. God created people to be in relationship with Him. Even though people sinned, breaking our relationship with God, He loves us so much that He made the way to bring us back into perfect relationship with Him!

CONNECT QUESTION: Welcome and greet children. Open your time by asking this question: What is your favorite thing in nature?

Who Am I?

SUPPLIES

- Name tags (1 per child)
- Marker

PREPARE AHEAD

Write the name of a different animal on each name tag (examples: cow, rabbit, duck, horse).

RELATE

Before God created the first people, He created animals.

Gather your children into a circle and put an animal name tag on each child's back. Then invite the kids to go around the room and interact with one another as each child tries to guess the animal on her back. The kids can ask each other questions such as "Do I moo?" or "Do I eat grass?" When a child correctly guesses his animal, he can continue to interact with the others until all of the kids have guessed their animals.

GATHER// 30 min.

Children experience and learn more about God through memorizing Scripture, storytelling from The Big God Story, prayer, and discussion.

Prayer

Gather your children into a circle. Encourage them to hold their hands in front of them, palms up, as a posture of receiving what God might speak to them today. Before you pray, designate a leader (or two) to open and close the time of prayer. Encourage the children to participate in this time of prayer if they would like to. Remind them that praying is simply talking to and listening to God, and that He always hears us when we pray.

As you pray, leave space between prayers for the children to take the opportunity to pray, in case some may be apprehensive and need a little more time. Pray that God would bless the day's lesson as you are in His Word. Pray that God would speak to the hearts of His children, revealing to them the truth of today's Ponder Point, that GOD IS ETERNAL.

Storytelling

Bible Passage: Genesis 1—3

Storytelling Technique: Acting Out the Narrative
God Is Eternal

Prayer of Release

The Prayer of Release allows children and leaders to pause, be still, and ask God to quiet their hearts and minds. Before you pray, you might ask the kids to hold out their hands, palms up, in a spirit of releasing their worries and distractions in order to better receive what the Holy Spirit might have for them today. Then encourage the kids to quiet their voices, take a seat, and pray with you.

RELATE

Last week we celebrated the Feast of Jubilee and gave thanks for God's gift of freedom. Today we're starting a new year of journeying through The Big God Story, and we're starting back at the very beginning. Let's ask the Holy Spirit to speak to us today. Lead children in Prayer of Release.

Keep your eyes closed for a minute and tell me what you see. Interact with responses. That's right—nothing! The Big God Story tells us it was like this in the very beginning. Before God created the animals, the trees, or the sun, everything was empty. There was nothing—nothing except for God. He is eternal, which means He has always been and will always be. Ever since creation God has been working to tell His big story to the world and to invite every person to know and love Him.

Ask for a few volunteers to help tell today's portion of The Big God Story. Ask one child to hold the cup of water and another to hold the flashlight, which he will turn on when you direct him to do so. Give another child the bucket of sand or dirt and another child the potted plant. Give three children the Sun, Moon, and Stars images. Invite other children to be birds and others to be fish. Ask one child to play Adam, another to be Eve, and another to be the snake.

In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth. Have children turn to Genesis 1. Invite a volunteer to read verse 1. The Bible tells us God's Spirit hovered over the waters. He was in control of everything that He would create and everything that would happen. Have child with the water dip her fingers into the cup and lightly sprinkle it on a few other kids. Our powerful God was about to begin His great story that continues today!

God simply spoke, and with His words He began to create the world. He said, "Let there be light," and there was light. Read Genesis 1:3 aloud. Have child with flashlight turn it on. God separated the light from the darkness, and He saw that it was good (verse 4). Have child turn off flashlight. God continued to create over the next few days. He created the land and the seas. Have child with bucket of sand or dirt invite a couple of children to run their fingers through it. He also created plants—fruit trees and flowers and bushes. Have child with potted plant stand up and show plant to everyone. God created the sun, the moon, and the stars. Have children holding Sun, Moon, and Stars images stand up and show them to everyone. He created animals on the land, fish in the sea, and birds in the air. Invite "fish" and "birds" to make swimming and flying motions.

Then God created people. Instead of speaking mankind into being, God used dirt from the ground to form a man. Have child playing Adam stand up. Then God breathed His breath into the man, and he lived! Next, God created a woman to be the man's partner. God took a rib from the man and made the woman from it to be the man's wife. Have child playing Eve stand up. Does anyone know the names of these first two people? Allow responses. That's right—Adam and Eve. God gave something special to humans that He didn't give to the rest of His creation. The Big God Story says that God created people in His image—He put His fingerprint on each of us!

God put Adam and Eve in the garden of Eden, a beautiful place where they could work and live and take care of the things God had created. In the garden, they enjoyed a perfect relationship with God and each other. Have Adam and Eve work and look joyful. God told Adam and Eve that they could eat anything in the garden except the fruit from the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil. God told them that if they ate from this tree, they would die. God is eternal, which means He knows the beginning and the end. He didn't want harm to come to Adam and Eve.

One day a snake spoke to Eve. Have child playing the snake hiss loudly. The snake told Eve that the things God had said about the fruit of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil weren't true. The snake told Eve that God was trying to keep her from being like God, the eternal One. Eve believed the snake. She took a piece of fruit and ate it. Then she gave a piece of fruit to Adam, and he took a bite too. Have Adam and Eve act this out. When Adam and Eve ate the fruit, they disobeyed God, and sin entered the world. Their choice separated people from God, and sin is now a part of The Big God Story. Have Adam and Eve look sad. Then have all the volunteers sit down.

Even though Adam and Eve had disobeyed God, He still loved them. He told them that because of sin, life would be harder now—there would be pain and hard work in the world, and death would come. Sin broke Adam and Eve's relationship with God, and they could no longer live in the garden of Eden. But God still provided for Adam and Eve. He made them clothes to cover and protect them. God loved His creation so much that He still wanted to provide for them.

Adam and Eve's choices broke the relationship between God and people. But God is eternal. He knows the beginning and the end. He didn't let the story end with sin! Ever since then, He has been working throughout The Big God Story to restore our relationship with Him. He sent His Son Jesus to die for our sins so our relationship with Him could be made right. Jesus took on the consequences of our sin. And although brokenness still exists in the world, God invites each of us to know Jesus and accept His forgiveness for our sins. Because of Jesus, we can receive the gift of eternal life—meaning we can be with Him forever!

The Big God Story doesn't end there! At the end of time, God will make everything perfect. Life will be perfect because God will again live in a perfect relationship with His people. And it will be good. Let's say it together: "It is good!"

God is eternal. That means He has always existed and always will exist. He created all that we can see, taste, touch, hear, and smell. He created you and me, and He has been working throughout all of history to call us back into perfect relationship with Him. He invites you, me, and everyone else to be a part of everything He's doing in The Big God Story! Share a personal story of how you've seen the eternal God working in creation.

Discussion Questions

- What existed before creation? Genesis 1:1
- Who and what did God create? Genesis 1:3–27
- How did God create the world? Genesis 1:3–27
- How was God's creation of man and woman different from His creation of everything else? Genesis 2:7,

21–22

- How did Adam and Eve disobey God? Genesis 2:16–17; 3:1–7
- What happened when Adam and Eve disobeyed God? Genesis 3:7–19
- What did God do so we can be in relationship with Him? John 3:16

Praising God for Creation

The Big God Story tells us how God created all things. He is powerful, loving, and good. Throughout The Big God Story, people praised God for the things He created.

Read Psalm 8:3–9 as kids follow along.

- What does this psalm say about God?
- What aspect of God's creation reminds you most of God's majesty?

Read Psalm 148:1–4.

- Psalm 148 says the sun, moon, and stars praise God. How can God's creation praise Him?
- Why do you think the writer of this psalm wanted to praise God for His creation?
- How can you praise God for the things He's created?

Jesus at Creation

Ask a volunteer to read Colossians 1:15–18.

The Bible tells us that Jesus was there during creation. Through Him, all things were created. The Father, Son, and Holy Spirit have always been!

- What words in these verses show us that Jesus was there in the beginning?

Remember Verse

Each week children will spend time memorizing a portion of Scripture together. The Remember Verse focuses on a character trait of God that's highlighted in today's portion of The Big God Story.

RELATE

Before the mountains were born or you brought forth the whole world, from everlasting to everlasting you are God. Psalm 90:2

Game: Word Scramble

SUPPLIES

- Paper (20 sheets)
- Marker
- Optional: additional paper (20 more sheets)

SET UP

Write each word of the verse and the verse reference on a separate sheet of paper. (If you have a large group of kids, write the verse again on another 20 sheets of paper.) Scramble the papers.

RELATE

Talk with your children about the Remember Verse and how it relates to today's Ponder Point—God Is Eternal. Then give the kids the sheets of paper and invite them to put the words in the correct order on the floor. Once they have the words in order, they can read the Remember Verse out loud. Then have the children scramble the words again and repeat the process. Keep playing until the kids have memorized the verse.

RESPOND// 15 min.

Children reflect on what the Holy Spirit is teaching them and respond through creative activities and games.

Create: Grateful for Creation

RELATE

God is eternal. He created the world and everything in it. No one else helped God create the world. He has always existed, and He is the one true God who rules over everything. Whenever we see a mountain or a beautiful flower or a buzzing bee, we can remember that God is the Creator who has always been. What is your favorite part of God's creation? Invite responses.

God also created you and me. The Bible says God created us in His image, and when we accept Jesus, the Holy Spirit helps us to become more like Him (Colossians 3:9–10). How does it make you feel to know that God created you in His image? Interact with responses.

Invite the children to take some time to respond to what they learned about creation today. Go through the following list of things God created, and invite the kids to call out why they're grateful for each thing: light, sky, land, seas, plants, trees, fruit, sun, moon, stars, fish, birds, livestock (cows, sheep, etc.), wild animals, man, woman. For example, when you remind them that God created the sea, the kids might say they're thankful for water to drink or the opportunity to swim at the beach. Then encourage them to go a bit deeper—remind them that Jesus said that He is living water and that all life comes through Him (John 4:10; 7:38).

What an amazing God we serve! He's created so much for us to enjoy. He has always existed, and all things in creation, and all of us, live because of Him (Colossians 1:17).

Developmentally Speaking

Third and fourth graders can think deeply about God and our world. Encourage the children by giving the class examples of your own interactions with God and our world.

Engage: Come on Over

RELATE

God created the world and everything in it. He spoke, and things began to appear. Today engage your children with a fun twist on Red Rover as they ponder all of the things God created.

Assign some of your children to be “day” and some to be “night.” Make others “sky,” “sea,” “land,” “trees,” “birds,” and “livestock.” Assign categories based on the number of kids you have. Then divide the whole group into two teams, and place them on opposite sides of the room, about 10 feet apart. Each team should join hands to form a line.

Teams should take turns saying, “Then God created ...” and shouting out one of the things God created. For example, if the team says, “Sky,” the “sky” children on the opposite team should run over to the other line and try to break through their hands. If they’re successful, they can bring someone back to their team. If not, they join the other team. Play until one person remains on the other team.

- How does it make you feel to know God created things by just speaking?
- How does it make you feel to know God created people with His own hands and His own breath?

BLESS// 5 min.

Children receive a blessing from their leaders and sometimes one another. A blessing can be a prayer of commission, a portion of Scripture, or words to encourage and guide.

SUPPLIES

- Remember Verse cards
- At Home Weekly
- Bible
- Stones (1 per child, small)

RELATE

Our God is eternal. He existed before anything else—before the mountains or rivers or lakes or people. God created everything in the world, and He created people. And even though people disobeyed Him and chose to sin, God has worked throughout The Big God Story to provide the way for us to be in perfect relationship with Him again.

Give a stone to each child. God existed before He made the mountains. Open a Bible and read Psalm 90:2:

Before the mountains were born or you brought forth the whole world, from everlasting to everlasting you are God.

Now take a moment to bless each child with one of the following statements:

(Child's name), God loves you and created you. He has a plan for your life. May you live in His love and peace this week.

Or

(Child's name), God has always been. He is our Creator, and He loves you deeply. Rejoice in His love this week.

After you've blessed the children individually, invite the group to gather and join hands as you finish with these words.

May God remind you that He is the Creator, eternal and good. May you know He invites you to be a part of The Big God Story today and forever.

Encourage the children to take their stones home as reminders of God's creation and His plan to redeem everything through Jesus.

At Home Weekly is provided as a parent resource with each week's lesson (see Resources) and can be emailed or printed and distributed. This preteaching tool encourages families to spend time in God's Word together before children arrive at church. The best part is that parents are the first to introduce their kids to the Bible content they'll hear at church. In this way, the church is supporting families as they spiritually nurture their children.
